WINES FROM ITALY

WINTER 2025

PIEMONTE

ENRICO RIVETTO

Enrico Rivetto was the first estate in the Barolo and Barbaresco regions of Piedmont to achieve biodynamic status at Demeter, one of the largest certification bodies.

Rivetto's entire, 100,000 bottle annual production is certified biodynamic, starting with its 2019 vintage wines.

Originally founded in 1902, Rivetto was established in its current location in the Barolo commune of Serralunga d'Alba in 1938.

Enrico Rivetto, the fourth generation of the family, joined the property full-time in 1999 and started converting to organic viticulture in 2009. He received certification in 2016.

'Organic isn't complete as it only governs the things you aren't allowed to use,' Rivetto said, referring to the proscription of synthetic fertilisers, fungicides, herbicides and pesticides. Little by little, he added elements of biodynamic practices. He planted ancient strains of corn and wheat, aromatic herbs and perennial flowers along with 550 trees to create a biodiverse environment.

In total, Rivetto sacrificed 1.2ha of vines leaving 15ha in production. Most of the 35ha property is enclosed by forest, providing a natural border with neighbouring vineyards.

FONTANASSA

The winery is located in Rovereto di Gavi, in the heart of the historic area of Gavi D.O.C.G. of the Municipality of Gavi.

The first bottles were produced in 1988 with the arrival of Marco and Roberto Gemme in the winery and in cooperation with the oenologist Gaspare Buscemi.

Fontanassa is an old fortified farmhouse from 16th century. Already in a sharecropping contract dated December 27, 1634 with the cultivation of white and red grapes.

Over the centuries it was owned by important Genoese families until 31 December 1921 when it was bought by Marco and Roberto's great-grandfather Citù.

The vineyards are located on a clay soil with stones and iron sands with a south and south-west exposure at a height of 290-330 m. The winery has an area of 77 hectares of which 35 are currently planted with vineyards, guyot trained.

LE MARIE

The winery "Le Marie" comes from the passion for winemaking of the owner Valerio. His wife Luigina, and their children Simona and Daniele work together in the vineyard and the winery. Le Marie is a small, family-run farm and winery in Barge, which is in the north-west of Piedmont near the French border. The vineyards are between 400-450M above sea level.

The winery, like many, is in transition between generations as Valerio's children, Simona and Daniele, take over. The winery was founded in 2000. They have 9.5ha in 14 plots. The result are wines of personality, pure and elegant, produced in limited numbers with respect of the territory and environmentally friendly farming practices.

GIOVANNI MANZONE

In 1925 Giovanni Manzone purchased "Ciabot del Preve" (the Parish Priest house) and he started the winemaking in Monforte d'Alba. Manzone's high-elevation vineyards and their extreme steepness foster naturally low-yielding vines which produce wines that are approachable while young, yet remain amongst the most concentrated and longest-lived of all Barolos. During the years the Manzone family purchased important vineyards on the historic hill of "CASTELLETTO" and "GRAMOLERE", two of the best Crus in Monforte d'Alba.

The Manzone family expresses the essence of Langhe, humble origins that have made wines great, because they were born out of an authentic passion.

A strip of land that rises on the ridge of Perno, at around 450 meters, atop which rises the Manzone winery. Manzone is in a magnificent crossroads: Castiglione Falletto to the north, Monforte d'Alba to the south, Barolo to the west, Serralunga d'Alba to the east, in a valley of steep slopes, surrounded by ancient woods and held by the majestic Alpine arc on the horizon.

No clarification, no filtration and minimum use of sulphur during bottling. Spontaneous fermentation, delicate and slow maceration on the skins and pips, delivers exceptional Barolo's and Langhe Nebbiolo.

The Manzone Barolos always receive high recognition and ratings by the international press.

MANUEL MARINACCI

Tucked away in the little known Barbaresco village of San Rocco Seno d'Elvio, just outside Alba, is the single plot of 4 hectares which belongs to Manuel Marinacci.

Manuel's a young wine producer, who graduated from Alba's viticultural school Umberto 1, which he graduated from in the mid 1990s. After graduation, Manuel worked abroad & locally for both large and small cantine/wineries before purchasing the San Rocco Seno d'Elvio vineyard in 2002. Vintage 2004 was his first release. Manuel specialises in Barbaresco and Langhe Rosso which uses an indigenous grape of Freisa.

Refreshingly Manuel immediately adopted the traditional approach to winemaking. His Nebbiolo for Barbaresco is vinified in cement without temperature control using selected yeast.

MASSIMO RIVETTI

An outstanding Barbaresco Producer. A five-generation family winery, Massimo Rivetti has 25 hectares cultivated under organic certification with indigenous yeast and no pesticides or chemicals used. Annual production is around 100,000 bottles, mainly divided between Barbaresco and Barbera d'Alba. All the fields are grouped around Froi, Garassino and Palazzina. The Winery is located in Froi where it is built on Serraboella hill, one of the most important for the production of Barbaresco. The vineyards are favourably exposed to South, South-West. The winery has vineyards from 35 to 75 years old with limited yield per hectare to maximize the grape quality, the terroir and production area. All weeding and vine management work is done by hand to avoid any herbicide, including the use of 20+ different variety of herbs which help plants to avoid stress and act as a natural fertilizer. Only yeasts that are naturally present on the skins of the berries are used, in order to obtain wines which reflect the territory and production area.

FERRARI TRENTO DOC

Ferrari's legacy began with Giulio Ferrari, who dreamed of crafting a Trentino wine to rival France's best Champagnes. He passed the torch to Bruno Lunelli, a passionate wine shop owner whose vision expanded production without sacrificing quality.

Today, the Lunelli family continues this tradition through innovation and dedication. Their meticulous attention to detail and commitment to excellence have made Ferrari Italy's leading Metodo Classico sparkling wine producer.

Crafted from grapes grown in Trentino's mountain vineyards and made using traditional Trento DOC methods, every bottle of Ferrari offers a uniquely refined experience.

TENUTE LUNELLI

After three generations of winemaking, the Lunelli family expanded their passion by creating the Tenute Lunelli brand, encompassing three wineries in Trentino, Tuscany, and Umbria: Tenuta Margon, Tenuta Podernovo, and Tenuta Castelbuono. This project focuses on producing fine wines that reflect their terroirs with elegance and longevity.

Inspired by the symbolism of the moon's phases, the Lunelli Estates see themselves as "artisans of time," patiently crafting wines. Sustainability is central to their philosophy, aiming to combine top-quality grapes with environmental and health protection.

SECONDO MARCO

Marco Speri, part of the fifth generation of Valpolicella wine producers, founded 'SECONDO MARCO' in Fumane, in the heart of the Valpolicella Classica region.

The area's unique climate, between Verona and Lake Garda, is ideal for winemaking. Marco blends tradition with innovation, using a Y-shape vineyard system for easier, non-invasive maintenance and handpicking grapes to preserve their character. He believes that intuition and the ability to adapt to nature's rhythms are key to creating wines with unique flavors every year. "Wine contains all the components of life, and you must follow nature's rhythm.

TENUTA DI TAVIGNANO

Tenuta di Tavignano was founded by Stefano Aymerich di Laconi and Beatrice Lucanegli where until the 1990s the estate's activities were based on the cultivation of cereals, vegetables and fodder crops. Then the decision was taken to plant and cultivate indigenous wine varieties of the territory.

In 2014, Ondine de la Feld Aymerich, niece of Stefano and Beatrice, with a background of in architecture and design but a strong tradition in agricultural entrepreneurship, joined Tenuta di Tavignano along with the granddaughter of Stefano and Beatrice and marked the green turn of the entire production with their modern, dynamic and entrepreneurial style.

The estate is now certified organic and the approach by the family is completely and proudly sustainable. As the family states, they have collected what happened in this place, studied it and made it part of them. Their profound knowledge of the land and its history along with the exceptional characteristics of the DOC Verdicchio dei Castelli di Jesi is their secret. Today the entire estate stretches over 230 hectares of land with 30 dedicated to vines. The vineyards are managed meticulously, hand-picked, respecting the plant's life cycle, promoting biodiversity and healthy self-sufficient vines.

AUSTRIA

MAURER - Röschitz

The winery is located in Röschitz, at the foot of Manhartsberg, in the Weinviertel region of Lower Austria. The Maurer family has been here for four generations. In 2001, Leo Maurer Jr. (a Krems Viticulture School graduate) and his wife Manuela (state-certified wine manager) took over the business, with assistance from parents Alfred and Maria Maurer.

The 14-hectare vineyards feature white varieties like Grüner Veltliner, Chardonnay, Riesling, Sauvignon Blanc, and red varieties such as Zweigelt and Blauburger. The winery practices sustainable viticulture with selective manual harvesting, and the wines are aged in steel tanks for whites and large wooden barrels for reds.

CHAMPAGNE AUTREAU DE CHAMPILLON

The Autreau family's history in the Champagne region dates back to 1670, with their works once displayed in the Louvre and Versailles. In the 1950s, Gerard Autreau shifted from selling grapes to creating his own wines, a tradition now carried on by three generations, including Eric and his son Laurent.

The estate covers 33 hectares across Champillon, Ay, Chouilly, and Verneuil. Using sustainable viticulture practices with minimal interventions, the estate has earned High Environmental Value Level 3 and Sustainable Viticulture certifications.

CHAMPAGNE LEON LAUNOIS

Champagne Leon Launois, one of the oldest families in Champagne, has roots in Le Mesnil-sur-Oger, a prestigious "Grand Cru" terroir on the Côte des Blancs. With access to the best Champagne crus, their cuvées are crafted in state-of-the-art thermo-regulated stainless steel vats, blending tradition and modernity.

The family's traditional cellars house rare vintages, including bottles from 1955, 1959, 1961, 1964, 1970, 1973, and 1989, resting in their exceptional Oenotheque for decades.

SLOVENIA

EDI SIMCIC- Brda

Edi Simcic is widely regarded as one of Slovenia's top wine producers, with three generations continuing the family tradition. Edi, alongside his son Aleks, leads the winery into a new era, while Aleks' sons learn the craft. Located in Goriška Brda, near the Italian border, the winery produces Giocato, often considered Italy's best white wine cru.

The region's unique climate and mineral-rich soil contribute to its exceptional quality. Stephen Tanzer praises Simcic as the best wine producer in Eastern Europe.
